

ABSTRACT OF DISCLOSURE

Slit valves placed in normally closed distal tips at the leading end of catheter tubes are disclosed whereby tube passageway occlusion problems and body cavity interference problems are greatly reduced, if not eliminated.